A rock about the size of a hen egg was thrown by some unknown person into a window of the passenger train while under headway between Jonesboro and Bear Creek on Friday evening last, which broke a window glass and struck our fellow-citizen, Mr. W. W. Haworth, in the face.—Griffin Middle Georgian.

Yesterday morning, John Jones, an aged colored man, well known in this city as "Ole Jones," died at the advanced age of 100 years. The deceased had, throughout his long life, so conducted himself as to merit the respect and good opinion of our community. That he must have been, in real life a most valuable servant, cannot be denied in glancing over his lengthy career, and his relation in slaveholding times. He was born in Nassau, N. P., and came to Savannah about seventy-five years since, and was originally a servant in the "Minis" family, with which he remained a lengthy period. For many years back he is remembered as officiating as porter, in position, in the following firms: Messrs. Philbrick & Co., Philbrick & Marian, Philbrick, Marian & Bell, Philbrick & Bell, Bell & Prentiss, Bell, Prentiss & Co., Christian LeRoyer & Bell, and, finally, Bell & Hall.—Savannah News.

Mr. J. T. Moxley left Jonesboro, Georgia, on the 27th day of February last, and when last heard from was at Cartersville, Georgia. He expected to go from there to Rockmart, and has not been heard from since. He left home with the expectation of being gone only one month. He was canvassing as agent for a New York Asphaltic roofing house. He was in very feeble health at the time he left. Any information concerning him will be thankfully received by his wife, who resides at Jonesboro. Direct all communications to the Times office, Jonesboro, Ga. The agricultural fair of Clayton county, will be held on the 2d and 3d of August. Our sanctum was enlivened a few days ago by the presence of Miss Julia Jones, of Covington. She is as lively as a cricket, and pulled the editor's nose for speaking of the Dolly Varden baby last week. Her sparkling blue eyes and rosy cheeks will make her a formidable competitor for the premium offered for the prettiest girl baby at our incoming fair.—Clayton Times.

The city assessors have just completed their labors, and give in the value of real estate at $1,249,6 0. As our population is a little over 4,0 0, this gives an average of about $300 per head. Allowing seven persons to the family, it would give each family, black and white, a fine homestead worth a couple of thousand dollars. We hear that considerable quantities of pulverized glass have recently been sifted out of Western corn while grinding at Bernard's mill; also that several mules have died from this cause. Ex-Cadet Downing, of Virginia, who will be recollected as the youth who thrashed out the negro cadet South at West Point last year, and was expelled for it, is in town stopping at the Bylagon Hotel. A lanta does nothing by halves, and we learn by the papers that the crowd which w. l.ad the cemetery on Decoration Day last week, numbered seven or eight thousand, and that thirteen drays and other conveyance were loaded with decorations. The citizens of Atlanta have memorialized the City Council to appropriate fifty thousand dollars in twenty years' bonds to Ogleton pike, on the condition that the institution educate, free of tuition, all Atlanta boys who offer, that have been prepared for college in the free schools. This is an excellent movand a step in advance of anything heretofore executed in this country, in the way of free education. Truly, Atlanta is a progressive town, and her equal is not to be found in all the land.—Griffin Star.

The new reporter of the Court, Henry Jackson, Esq., has now become accustomed to his new harness, and is giving much satisfaction. The late reporter, N. J. Hammond, Esq., as you are aware, has been appointed Attorney General. There is a fact, which may be mentioned in this connection, which shows of what stuff Mr. Hammond is made. Though he was appointed reporter of the Court in 1868, and held the position until April last, he would never apply to Bullock for a commission, because he was unwilling to hold a commission from that prince of carpet-baggers. "Nat's" Democracy is pure gold. The Supreme Court decided yesterday, as I telegraphed you last evening, in favor of the validity of the acts of the Legislature of '87, passed after the expiration of the first forty days of the session. The decision gives almost universal satisfaction, as a contrary decision would have remitted the State back to the horrible condition of anarchy incident to a third reconstruction. The main point upon which the decision hinged was, that reconstruction was not completed, according to the Supreme Court of the United States, until August, 1870, and the Legislature elected in 1868, in the true sense of the words never did meet under our present Constitution, nor did it ever take the oath prescribed by the Constitution. It met and was organized under military orders, and not under the Constitution. The present Legislature, consequently, is the first, in the opinion of the Court, that has assembled under that instrument. The opinions of the Judges, it is surmised, will be written out at an early day, and probably published. This decision is in harmony with the idea advanced in Governor Jenkins' late letter to Governor Smith, to the effect that the latter was his "first legitimate successor."—Special Atlanta Cor. Savannah News.

I made some trifling business at the Executive office an excuse for paying my respects to Governor James M. Smith. My previously favorable impressions of the Governor were more than justified. His hearty and cordial manners, his easy and graceful bearing—dignified without being at all reserved—put one at ease in a moment. Governor Smith is emphatically a man of the people, and his administration will be a very popular one. The hue and cry raised against his disposition of the land scrip fund is based upon local prejudices and is decidedly circumscribed in its extent. You may rest assured of one thing, however: Governor Smith will do what he conceives to be his duty, regardless of the opposition set up against him by certain parties. There is a set in Georgia, composed partly of Republicans and partly—I am sorry to say—of men who profess to be Democrats, that habitually received all sorts of favors from Bullock. When the members of this high-toned coterie discovered that they were not likely to profit by Governor Smith's election, they immediately went to work for the purpose of organizing an opposition to his administration. The land scrip business was seized upon by them, and all sorts of motives were ascribed to the Governor. Some very good men, and some excellent newspapers, I regret to say, fell into the trap set by this clique; but to-day there is none of them that will not admit that the motives which prompted the Executive to donate the Agricultural College fund to the State University were of the purest and most patriotic character. The so called opposition to the renomination and re election of Governor Smith of which you read in certain newspapers, is all clap-trap. If I were to print here, as I am tempted to do, the name of a certain party who writes absurd letters of correspondence from Atlanta, the readers of the News would be amused as well as astonished. The attempt to bring out Mayor James, of Atlanta, as a Candidate for Governor, is another funny affair. James is a clever man, a successful financier, and all that sort of thing, but he has about as much chance for the Governorship as the parties who attempt to keep his name before the public. It happens that we have plenty of material in Georgia for Governors. We have Smith, we have General Alfred H. Colquitt, we have Hardeman, we have Gordon, and we have various other gentlemen whose political records are in accord with the views of their fellow-citizens.—J. C. H., Savannah News.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

How Coffee Stands for Greeley---Senator Norwood on Greeley---Grant Certain to be Nominated---Civil Rights---The Augusta Crowd.

WASHINGTON, May 10, 1872.

An amusing account is given by a visitor to the Cincinnati Convention of his return trip in company with Hon. John D. Defrees, who went to Porkopolis in the interest of Judge Davis. While en route Mr. D occupied himself with interviewing the darkies he encountered as to the prospects of Horace Greeley, who, it is claimed, will secure a large negro vote. As specimens I record the results of these interviews in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. An old darky was asked what he knew about Mr. Greeley, whereupon he scratched his head and said he didn't know any Mr. Greeley. "Yes, you do," said a colored bystander. "What, Mr. Greeley who run for Perkopolis in the dep t." The next negro a store down by the dep t." "Greeley, Greeley," he said, "wasn't that the man that signed Jeff Davis' bail bond?" "The same," said Mr. D. "Then I'll be d—d if I'll vote for him or any other anybody like him," was the energetic response. The third darky had never heard of Greeley, and didn't know anything about him.

As the gentlemen who accompanied Mr. Defrees is anti-Greeley and wants a straight-out Democratic ticket, he naturally exulted over the disastrous result of these interviews To my mind it simply illustrates, what all save the negro worshippers must admit, that the negro vote is an ignorant one and entirely subject to local influences. In the estimation of some people Mr. Sumner is a demigod among the negroes, and it has been said that his name would bring them to the polls en masse. Now, I am satisfied that not one negro in ten in the whole South ever heard of Mr. Sumner, or knows anything about him Where one will be found to worship Sumner for his anti-slavery efforts, half a dozen will worship Grant, who never had any love for the negro, and never made any special exertions in his behalf. A mere name will not suffice to control the negro vote of the South in the coming election. Other influences must be brought to bear, and it is none too soon to prepare for them.

GREELEY STOCK

is rising, though the Democrats in Congress are very chary of expressing themselves on the subject. Senator Norwood is as non-committal as the rest, though he rather squints toward a nomination at Baltimore, and thinks we may elect our candidate. The expression of Southern sentiment in favor of Greeley, who is also strong in Maryland, even among the older Democrats, must, however, have great influence with the convention. Many seem to think Greeley our only hope. They say if he is not indorsed by the Democratic party, and three tickets are put in the field there will be no elect on by the people, and the House of Representatives will then reelect Grant, as a matter of course. The reports that Grant intends to decline the nomination at Philadelphia, and that the convention of office-holders, to assemble then, will ratify the Cincinnati ticket, are equally groundless Grant has no intention of abandoning the contest under any circumstances, and the Philadelphia Convention will be under his absolute control.

SOCIAL EQUALITY.

The debate in the Senate yesterday, on Mr. Sumner's civil rights bill, was interesting and important. A stronger feeling against the measure than had been looked for was developed, though it was only defeated by being tacked on to the House amnesty bill, thus requiring a two-thirds vote. As an independent measure, Mr. Sumner's bill would doubtless obtain the requisite majority vote, though it looks as if he was more anxious to defeat amnesty than to secure the passage of his pet measures Meanwhile, Fred Douglass, following the lead of the Massachusetts Senator, has introduced in the legislative council of the District of Columbia a bill to give negroes the privileges of all restaurants, eating houses, bar-rooms, ice cream saloons and soda fountains on the same terms as white people, and that in case of a refusal by the proprietors thereof they shall be fined one hundred dollars and forfeit their licenses.

A NEGRO MEETING.

Last evening a meeting was held here by negroes who favor the passage of the civil rights bill of Senator Sumner's, and especially his bill for the establishment of mixed schools in the District of Columbia. The sense of the meeting is fairly expressed by the following extract from the report in this morning's Patriot: Fred Douglass, who presided, said: "The meeting had been called for a patriotic and beneficent object—an object which has stirred in former time all our political elements to fury. It was the design of this meeting to advocate the doing away with all discriminations in American politics on account of race or color. The black men now were attempting to perfect the American political machine. The prejudice against color which exists is in antagonism with the spirit of the age The objection which is made to colored men going into cars churches, theatres, and hotels, is not so much a simple prejudice against color, but proceeds from the desire engendered by slavery to keep the blacks in a condition of servility It is a relic of the old barbarism of slavery. He said that in no other country did this prejudice exist."

Mr. George T. Downing, at one time proprietor of the restaurant under the House of Representatives, claimed that if the colored people were to be denied every privilege which is allowed to the white citizen, then the negro should be disfranchised. As long as the negro was de facto a citizen, then he was entitled to every privilege both for himself and his children as is enjoyed under the law by his white fellow-citizen. He then went on to describe the indignities to which he had to submit in railroad cars and in the hotels, both in the North and in the South while traveling with his wife and children He next went on to make a legal argument to the effect that the law of the land, as laid down in the Constitution, absolutely forbids any distinction by common carriers and institutions supported by public taxation, on account of race or color. He arraigned the Republican party as being responsible for the present state of affairs, and urged that they should at once wipe off the stain which rests upon their escutcheon

A letter was read from President Grant giving assurance of most cordial sympathy in any effort to secure for all our people, of whatever race, nationality, or color, the exercise of the rights to which every citizen should be entitled."

Why then, does not Grant give amnesty to the proscribed people of the South?

But is it not evident that unless this accursed Radical party is hurled from power, there is to be no peace in all the land? This agitation of social equality is simply designed to win the negro vote; but it is manwhite the cause of needless annoyance and injury. No sane man believes that the negro can be forced into closer relations or companionship with the white race than at present, though the statute books be loaded down with such measures as that proposed by Mr. Sumner.

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

During its session of Wednesday evening last, the House passed a bill providing for the sale of the site of the old United States Arsenal at Augusta, Ga., composing one hundred and sixty-eight acres of land, more or less, and situated about two and one-half miles from the present arsenal. This property was purchased and used for arsenal purposes by the Confederate States Government.

Mr. Price has presented the petition of John A. Parker, of Lumpkin county, praying for the removal of his political disabilities.

New Georgia Bonds for Sale.

STATE TREASURER'S OFFICE,
ATLANTA, GA., April 6th, 1872.

The 7 per cent. State bonds, authorized by an Act approved January 18th, 1872, and issued for the purpose of exchange or redemption of old State bonds of Georgia maturing this year, are now ready for disposal according to the provisions of the bill.

Quite a number have already been sold to Georgians at 90 cents, and an opportunity for a few weeks is offered to obtain them at the State Treasury office at the above price, or they will be exchanged for the old bonds falling due, rating the old bonds at par and the new bonds at 90 cents, the State paying a difference of 10 per cent. in cash.

These new bonds are desirable on several accounts

1. They are issued in strict accordance with law.
2. No more are issued than barely enough to take up the old bonds maturing.
3. They are Exemption bonds, which are rated on the stock market as the very best class of securities.
4. The coupon interest will be paid promptly semi-annually, either in New York or the State Treasury
5. They are exempt from State taxation.

Orders for purchase, or bonds for exchange can be sent to the State Treasurer in Atlanta, and will receive prompt attention.

There are strong reasons, for these new bonds being at par in a short time, and it is hoped Georgians will continue to show their appreciation, as has the highest Judicial officer of the State, by purchasing twenty-five thousand dollars for himself.

By the advice and approval of the Governor.

N. L. ANGIER,

☞ Senator Morton was charged with aspiring to oust Grant and get the nomination to the Philadelphia Convention. He denies it, and is for Grant.

☞ The last rumor is that parties are trying to get Greeley and Grant to both withdraw and leave the united Republicans to make a new deal and pick a new man.

Greeley in Louisiana.

The Democrats of Louisiana, imitating the course of their fellow Democrats in other States, will not come to any determination on this subject until the convention of their party, called to assemble at Baltimore on July 9th, has announced its decision as to putting forth or withholding a Presidential ticket in the approaching canvass.—New Orleans Bee.

A Singular Spectacle.

It is certainly a singular spectacle to see Democratic politicians and journals objecting to the Cincinnati Convention, its platform and its nominees, when they, in the same issue, wish the Baltimore Convention to nominate a man like Adams, Judge Davis or Tom Scott. The New York World would be delighted with Adams, while the Washington Patriot, a so-called Democratic sheet is calling for Judge Davis.—Selma Times.

The Shrickers.

At the second day's session of the ballot sisterhood, the principal thing done was to pass a huge resolution that the women will go with the party that will let them vote. The roosters of the female sex gave Greeley fits. Mrs. Doneway, of Oregon, proposed to go for Horace if he would repent. She said he has backbone but no brains. Mrs Hooker said he had no backbone, and she wouldn't trust him if he repented. Mrs. Doneway said he didn't smoke and drink like Grant, but he swore occasionally. She could forgive that.

This was all that was done this day.

Sound.

I pause to implore Democrats and all lovers of the Constitution who will act with them, to be sure to send their truest and wisest men to this convention. Meantime, let the press and the people speak out, and let their delegates, who are only their servants, know what their wishes are. That done, let the convention determine, in the light of patriotism, and under a high sense of duty, what is best to be done, and then let the Democratic masses, the rank and file, bone and sinew, go solid in support of that decision. Under all circumstances, the integrity of the Democratic party must be preserved. The country still has use for it services, and constitutional liberty cannot afford to lose them.—John Forsyth to Mobile Register.

Hon. John Milledge.

We are pained to announce the death of this well-known Georgian on Monday night at eleven o'clock, in Forsyth, with typhoid pneumonia after a painful illness.

Of aristocratic Georgia lineage, and great wealth, Colonel Milledge for a long number of years was prominent in the politics of Georgia. He represented Richmond county for a number of years in the State Assembly.

Thus another of the old land marks passes away.

He had removed to the pleasant little village of Forsyth to live quietly his declining years in retirement. His last moments were full of christian resignation to his fate.

He leaves a widow and two children, one an accomplished daughter, and the other our fellow townsman, Capt John Milledge.

Georgia Crop News.

Lumpkin county—Rain needed, says the Signal. Farmers nearly through planting corn. Wheat fine; oats not so good.

Spalding county—Farmers' faces long as fence rails, says the Griffin Star. Cotton won't vegetate, and what is up is on the verge of death. Much of the cotton lands will have to be replanted unless relief comes. Oats begin to look feeble. Wheat doing finely. Upland corn not suffering yet. Farmers have had good time to plant wet bottoms.

Heard county—Dry weather had a bad effect on crops. Cotton coming up badly. Rain needed.

Clayton county—The Jonesboro merchants have bonded out largely supplies in this and adjoining counties at enormous per cent., says the Times.

That Toast to the Ladies.

"Ogeechee," the Atlanta correspondent of the Savannah News, thus writes about our press banquet:

"I feel bound to say, however, that your associate editor, Mr. Harris, who was set down to respond to the toast to the ladies, absconded and could not be found when that sentiment was read."

In the same issue of the paper, Mr. Harris thus explains:

"The banquet tendered by the citizens of Atlanta to the Press Association came off last night and was a very pleasant entertainment. The programme was quite a liberal one and carried the festivities far into the deminutive hours of morning; so that when the concluding sentiments were read, those who had been selected to respond had drawn their mosquito nets about them and lain down to pleasant dreams."

Fye, brother Harris. Ain't you ashamed? Drew your mosquito net about you when you had to speak about the ladies! And this is the man that says so much of the "P. G. in G.," which hieroglyhics stood for the prettiest girl in Georgia. We never in our born days heard of a more diabolical case of ignominious desertion.

We turn Harris over to Henry Grady's tender mercies.

☞ Prisoner, said Squire Jones, in awarding judgment, "it is a maxim of the law that it is better to err on the side of mercy. The Court has made up her mind which side she will err on, and nothing remains but to err on that side."

☞ Grant has said within the last few days that, in case the contest was between himself and Greeley, he would get at least one-half of the Democratic vote.

Our Duty.

In another column we reproduce an editorial article from the Griffin Georgian, measurably to indorse the protest against the seeming intolerance of an article in the Sun, of this city, and also to note the spirit of independence of thought and expression that is a creditable feature of our Georgia press.

The present political situation is one requiring the fullest exercise of reason, patience, good sense, and good temper on the part of the Democracy. There is no reason for hurry in coming to a conclusion, and, on the contrary, there is the very strongest reason that we should, concurrently with a full investigation and discussion of the field, avoid irrevocable committals, and leave the margin open for the future settlement of party policy according to the best lights guiding us then.

We are more interested now in ascertaining the strength that Greeley can carry in the Republican ranks than anything else. There has undoubtedly been a sort of Southern Democratic ground-swell for Greeley. It is astonishing how he has clutched the Southern heart. An old Henry Clay Whig, he has enlisted the Whig part of the Democracy like magic. As an original secessionist, a surety of Jeff Davis, and a general amnesty leader, he has touched the Confederates in a tender spot. As the foe of corruption, he meets the public yearning for a champion of honesty.

But to make Greeley available to beat Grant and oust the centralists from power, he must have Republican strength. The Democracy cannot afford to be defeated supporting Greeley. This question of his own party power cannot be tested in a moment. If he cannot draw enough votes from Grant to give him victory in connection with a Democratic alliance, then the Democracy had better fight and fall alone.

Allow him ample Republican support to make success assured in coalition with the Democratic army, then the question comes up as to whether the Democracy can succeed alone between the Republican fragments. Will its refusal to co-operate with Greeley reunite the dissevered fragments, and give Grant another lease of power? Is it better to make a sure stride in the direction of constitutional government, or in seeking all, lose all, and confirm centralism in further sway?

Who must decide these grave questions? Why, the party, after full information and discussion. Let us survey the field like sensible men in a grave crisis. Let us be liberal to each other, keeping up the harmonious brotherhood of a common aim. Let us avoid all dogmatism and intolerance. Let us keep open the broadest latitude of ultimate decision, that we may not be forced apart in the final contest by premature pledges. Let us preserve our party organization and alignment.

And when the National Democratic Convention, on the 9th of June, announces the plan of battle let the Democracy move to the contest with a grand unanimity that alone will secure triumph.

Democrats, we must be tolerant; we must be united.

The Greeley Nomination.

TROUP COUNTY, GA., May 13, 1872.

Editors Constitution: The writer is no politician, never having held an office, nor does he ever expect to but like every citizen feels a deep interest in the approaching Presidential election, believing that the re-election of General Grant would be the greatest calamity that can befall our country, to prevent this if possible is the duty of every man. The Executive Committee of the Democratic party has seen fit to call a convention to determine the action of that party; to shape the action of that convention the people should be alive. I am satisfied that a very large majority of the people, not politicians, are opposed to the Democratic party nominating a candidate believing it would result in the election of General Grant, but if those who favor the acceptance of the Cincinnati nominee remain inactive, and take no part in the selection of delegates to the Baltimore convention and allow the few who favor the nomination of a Democratic candidate to elect delegates representing their impracticable ideas the result will be that a nomination will be made which is just what Grant and his friends want.

We are free to admit that Mr. Greeley is not our choice, that we can't have, let us like sensible men take the best we can get. There is not a ghost of a chance for a Democratic candidate. Editors may write column after column, advocating the nomination of a straight Democratic ticket, the people don't believe there is any chance of success; they have no heart in it; they believe Greeley is preferable to Grant, and the contest will be between these two candidates. The war over Mr. Greeley advocated burying the hatchet the first man to advocate general amnesty and denounce the carpet-bag thieves who were robbing our people. We believe he will be the President of the whole people; he is not a sectional man; he will call around him the ablest men in the country, not omitting the South. If the Democratic party will nominate a candidate, and omit on the Cincinnati nominations, we will have another Harrison freshet, Grant and his followers will be swept out of the way, and not until then will we have peace.

TROUP.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

Opinions of Different Members Concerning the Cincinnati Nominations.

At the meeting of the National Democratic Committee, on Wednesday, the members carefully abstained from publicly expressing opinions in relation to prospective candidates or the probable action of the Baltimore Convention. Before leaving the city, however, many of the members, in response to inquiries, gave their individual opinions concerning the political condition of their respective States.

Gov. J. M. Harrell, of Arkansas, said the Convention was called in July to give the people time to consider what course will be best, in view of the action of the other Conventions. At the present time he believed the South to be strongly in favor of Mr. Greeley, as the man most likely to be successful against the Philadelphia candidate. He thought the Democrats of the Northern States sympathized with the feeling in the South, and that if the Convention were held to-day no nominations would be made.

H. B Smith, of Vermont, was not in favor of indorsing the action of the Cincinnati Convention, but thought there was a chance of carrying his State for Greeley, while a straight Democratic ticket would stand no chance.

William A. Moore, of Michigan, strongly favored indorsing the Cincinnati ticket, and was confident that the Democrats of his State would heartily support it. The leading Democratic newspaper of Detroit had already placed the names of Greeley and Brown at the head of its columns.

Senator McCreery, of Kentucky, thought the party should nominate a straight ticket, regardless of either Cincinnati or Philadelphia.

J. G. Thompson, of Ohio, thought his State would give a large majority for Greeley and Brown, and that the delegates from Ohio would be instructed to vote for the indorsement of the Cincinnati ticket.

William F. Storey of the Chicago Times was disappointed in the action of the Cincinnati Convention, and thought the Baltimore Convention, should make nominations. If this convention indorsed the Greeley and Brown ticket he should go to work for it.

Isaac E Eaton, of Kansas, General Bate, of Tennessee, and a number of others were strongly in favor of indorsing the Cincinnati nominations.

☞ A special from Richmond states that nothing has been heard from Stephen Lowry or Andrew Strong since the murder of Col. Wishart in North Carolina. The same special brings to life again Henry B Lowry, chief of the swamp angel gang, who has been reported dead for some months past.

☞ A lady of Boston, seeing among the religious notices that a certain clergyman would preach "D V." said at once that she would go and hear him, presuming, as she did, that the subject of the discourse was "Dolly Vardens."

The Press on Atlanta.

ATLANTA HOSPITALITY.

The irresistible hospitality of Atlanta and her citizens was sandwiched between the sessions of the Convention and came after them. It took us by surprise and met us at every corner. Private citizens baited us with mint juleps and led us smiling captives on numerous impromptu excursions. Innumerable committees hovered near, anxious to administer to our pleasure, and banquets and balls were improvised for our especial delectation. In the midst of so much genial and pleasant confusion, what wonder that some of us flew to hot soda-water for relief? I freely confess that I am a subsidized man. Nevermore will prejudice against Atlanta rankle in my bosom; nevermore will I laugh to scorn the marvellous growth and prosperity of this wonderful city; nevermore will I meet with incredulous smiles the singing of her praises by some enamored citizen.

DRAWING A PARALLEL.

There is as much difference between the hospitality of Savannah and that of Atlanta as there is in the location of the two cities. The one is jovial and hilarious—the other is serious, sly and insinuating. In Savannah, preparations are made for you, and you take your choice; in Atlanta you have no choice. You must carry out the programme. You are met at the corners by solemn committeemen, who lead you off to enjoy yourself in spite of everything you may say or do. Private citizens pounce down upon you and carry you—a willing lamb—to a princely sacrifice. In Savannah you are left free to accept or decline; in Atlanta you must accept or die. That is my experience. What, with the committees, and the citizens, and the courtesies of my friends of the Atlanta press, I suffered the most agreeable martyrdom imaginable.

ADAIR'S JULEP TREE.

Among the most pleasant remembrances of Atlanta to the majority of us is the little editorial excursion to the cozy and hospitable home of Colonel G. W. Adair, in West End, where the editors were pacified and soothed by a series of standard strawberry juleps For once formality was thrown aside. There were no threadbare toasts and no pro-y responses, no descent into the dry desolation of speech-making, and nothing, in short, to mar the happy informality and sociability of the occasion. I remember I made a mental note of the fact that Adair's strawberries appeared to be of some new and peculiar variety. It was observed that half a dozen of these remarkable berries were too much for the average editor, though some of the more versatile and talented members of the Convention got away with a dozen, without any signs of distress.—J. H to the Savannah News.

Atlanta is a great place! And the Kimball House is her greatest jewel. This mammoth hotel is a marvel to all who enter its walls. It employs one hundred and forty men and women. Its gas bill is about six hundred dollars a month. Its expenses are about six hundred dollars a day, or eighteen thousand dollars a month. Every thing is conducted in faultless style. One feels rich, inspired and happy while revelling in its hospitality. It does more to build up Atlanta, and give it character abroad, than any other institution in the city. (The above monument has been erected to the Kimball House without the writer ever having swallowed a single dead-head biscuit in its walls, or having ever thrust a pair of dead beat legs beneath its groaning mahogany. The writer does not care for these things. He's rich.)

The elegant ball given by Mrs. Maria J Westmoreland to the Press was a very fine affair. The parlors of the famous hostess were thronged with the fashion and elite of the city. Governors, judges, divines and statesmen, whose fame is jealous of even continental limits, united with the Press in giving distinguished tone to the kid-glo ved gentry that made up the ornamental part of the assemblage. Mrs. Westmoreland is a lady of rare attainments, and her future is one in which America claims a share. She is now engaged on a new novel, which her friends claim will be rid of the blemishes that obscured the brilliancy of "Heart Hungry," and at the same time preserve all those beauties which have made that the best selling book of the year.

THE BANQUET AT THE KIMBALL HOUSE

was the cracking affair of the season. A rare assemblage of brave men were there. Gray-haired statesmen, whose names were familiar from one end of America to the other, and whose lives have been spent in honorable public service, down to ambitious boys, whose ambitious beaks were just peering through the eggshell of their teens.

The toasts were brilliant and responded to with spirit and ability.

The press of Georgia is a fine looking, intelligent and active set of men. They are vigorous, brave and able, an honor to their State, and brilliantly illustrate their profession.

Thanks are due to the resident profession for their overbounding kindness, especially the gentlemen of THE CONSTITUTION office. Colonel Yancey of the Plantation, and Major Prather of the Index.—Dolly Varden in the Rome Commercial.

MEMBERS OF THE PRESS IN ATLANTA.

The citizens of Atlanta never do things by halves—they go the whole hog every time. Perhaps no city in America would have made as great exertions to make the stay of the members of the press pleasant in Atlanta. The doors of the magnificent Kimball House were thrown open to them by arrangement of the city; and the entire management of the hotel, from critenden to the porter, were untiring in their attentions, and if the members of the press had been an embassy of Japanese princes, they could not have been shown greater respect.

At the entertainment given by Dr Willis Westmoreland, special attention was given to the members, and they could not but feel flattered at the respect shown for the profession by Mrs. Westmoreland, and the large number of elegant ladies whom she had gathered around her to assist in making the affair pleasant. And among the prominent citizens who entertained the party, was Colonel G. W. Adair, who displayed his hospitality in princely style. The well-known London store, not to be excelled in showing respect, illuminated its establishment from front to rear, and made such a display of splendid goods and millinery as to astonish all who looked through the store.

The visit to Ponce de Leon Spring, at the invitation of Mr. Crittenden, was a very pleasant affair. And the entertainment there under the management of Mr. McGuire was such as to endear both these gentlemen to the hearts of the editors. And on every occasion, the attention of the prominent citizens who accompanied the party were such as showed that it afforded them pleasure to make the members of the press feel that the entire city were glad of their presence among them. In this, as in everything the citizens of Atlanta undertake, they showed their liberality and public spirit, and have endeared to them every member of the press present. Griffin News.

Mr. Stephens on the Cincinnati Convention.

Since Mr. Stephens' connection with the press we have seen much in his course to admire. His principles were to us so congenial that we have never had occasion to differ from him on questions of politics. We have had respect for his teachings, and candidly confess that in many instances our deference to his opinions influenced our judgment in no small degree. But we discover a vacillation in his course, a positive change of his political front, the effect of which is to weaken that reference, and cause us to doubt his soundness as a leader. This, however, we do without impugning his motives.

On the first page of this paper we print one of Mr. Stephens' latest editorials under the head of "Choose You This Day Whom You Will Serve." He thinks that "every recognized leader or organ of the public sentiment should take position on one side or the other of this momentous conflict," meaning thereby that they should take sides with either with the Liberals or with that element of the Democratic party which favors a "straight-out" Democratic candidate. He even goes so far as to say that "silence on the part of sentinels on the watch-tower is no longer excusable or pardonable." He is even so intolerant as to deny the honest masses the right to investigate and reflect upon the political state of affairs; and, in a manner little to be expected of a leader of an intelligent people, he applies the party lash, saying "those who are not for us are against us."

Instead of discussing the platform and principles of the "Liberals," he makes a personal fight on Mr. Greeley.

Does Mr. Stephens not know that it is not only possible but probable that the Democratic Convention will indorse Greeley? If it should, what good will have been accomplished by those "organs" that have taken sides against Greeley, and appealed to the people's prejudices and old animosities against him? While, on the other hand, many will most likely take positions in favor of Greeley, and, after educating the people to believe that it is a matter of impossibility for the Democrats to succeed as a distinct party it is possible that the Convention will nominate a "straight ticket." What good will then have been accomplished by taking "sides," and shaking the people's confidence and hopes for success? The masses are tired of voting without effect, and of two evils they will choose the least rather than hazard success. The party lash when applied by so distinguished a gentleman as A. H. S will not deter them from doing their own thinking, coming to their own conclusions, and acting as they deem best for their country.

How changed is Mr. Stephens since last March when he, in referring to the words of Gratz Brown's speech, said:

"They clearly imply that there is really no essential difference between him and the true Democracy everywhere on the great, living, vital question now submitted to the country between Constitutionalism and Centralism."

He further says of this man who was the moving spirit of the Cincinnati Convention:

"All who hold the sentiments of Governor Gratz Brown on this subject, and will, in good faith, assist in defeating the Radical attempts at Empire and Central Despotism, we hail, not only as cordially accepted allies, but as good enough Democrats for us in the coming conflict, whatever may have been their past party names or associations."

Mr. Stephens at another time indicates that he has a forgiving spirit. On the subject of candidates or standard bearers he says:

"On this subject, however, of standard bearers or candidates, we repeat what we have often said: We shall be content with any man or men, who is or are, at this time, on the Democratic side in the great issue now before the country, or Constitutionalism against Centralism." A. H S.

Greeley holds the sentiments of Governor Gratz Brown on this subject (constitutionalism against centralism,) and is therefore "on the Democratic side in the great issue," and in the face of the fact that Mr. Stephens has pledged himself to be content with men of such principles, he makes a personal war against Mr. Greeley. Last March, Mr. Stephens' motto, in substance, as is shown by the above quotations from his editorials, was "principles, not men," but his late personal war upon Mr. Greeley indicates that his watchword at present is, men, not principles." He does not show wherein lies the difference between the principles of this Liberal movement and the principles of the Democratic party "on the great, living, vital questions."

For our part, we are in favor of waiting upon the action of the National Democratic Convention. If that Convention favors Mr. Greeley as the Presidential candidate we shall support him. If not, we shall support whoever they nominate As he is one of "our cordially accepted allies," we think it impolitic and even unkind to make a crusade against him.—Griffin Middle Georgian.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—In the Senate a bill for a District Court in the Indian territory was up.

Nye said the reservation policy for the Indians was a complete failure He favored a railroad through them and opening the lands to settlement.

Kellogg's supplemental enforcement bill was resumed and finally passed by a vote of 35 to 17.

Mr. Thurman, in the course of debate, said he would vote against it on principle.

The discussion was quite exciting over various amendments, and indicated the hopelessness of amnesty this session.

GREELEY.

What a Southern Man North Advises.

NEW YORK, May 9, 1872.

Editors Constitution: By every mail I get inquiries from my friends in Georgia, inquiring as to the policy of the South in this political juncture. "What about Greeley?" etc., etc.; and I am often asked to write you on the "situation." I presume my opinions will have little weight with you, but still, as requested, I may tell you briefly how we feel here. I learn, with genuine surprise, that the nomination of Mr. Greeley is received with more or less favor by Southern Democrats. I am quite at loss to understand how you can support a man who, during a long life, marked with many evidences of ability, has been only consistent in his steady, and brilliant and effective antagonism to use your institutions, your traditions, and your principles; a man who is known to be able, but who is also ambitious, vain, and unreliable, half free love, half Fourerite, and all high tariff, dangerous alike to friends and foes. At one time advising acquiescence in peaceable secession, and soon afterwards imperiling his own government by his insane cry for relentless war. His great popularity with the masses makes his influence dangerous to his own party. No one can tell at what moment the boomerang he launches at the foe may not return in the face of a friend.

Conceding to Mr. Greeley all the fine qualities of heart claimed for him, it remains to demonstrate that he has the personal dignity, the sound judgment and the discreet firmness required from the coming President. If the recent candidate ever gets to the White House he will be another "bull in the china shop."

The South has an honorable record of over seventy years has acquired a character distinguished for consistent devotion to principle. It would, to me, be indeed amazing if it should now stultify itself, and sell out for a little "conciliation" chaff—signing Mr. Davis' bond, etc., when the government was afraid to put him on trial.

For my part, I hope the Democratic party, while burying the dead past, will stand by its time-honored principles—free trade and State rights (not State sovereignty)—nominate a wise and good man, such as Adams or Chase, put him on a sound, honest, live platform, and appeal to the country.

There is no occasion for haste; let us hasten slowly; practice dignified moderation and masterly inactivity.

If we have finally but Grant and Greeley to choose from we can at least save our self-respect; we can decline to vote.

Respectfully, R.

Letter by Montgomery Blair.

Montgomery Blair has written the following letter on the Cincinnati Convention, and the future course of the Democratic party It is addressed to a prominent Democrat in Baltimore:

WASHINGTON, May 7th, 1872.

We will have to take Greeley or Grant, and we will take Greeley, reluctantly, of course, but not the less certainly. And he will be the more certain of election, because the Democrats do not wish to embrace at first. As for their running a candidate of their own, that would only be insuring and disgraceful. They all gave in their adhesion to the Cincinnati Convention, and the most obstreperous of Greeley's opponent's had their candidate before that convention. Mr. Voorhees, for example, was loud in his advocacy of Judge Davis; and the World was earnest in pressing Adams. Now there certainly can be no greater departure from principle in supporting Greeley than there would be in supporting Davis or Adams, or any other Radical. There can be, in fact, no motive assigned for the support of one of these men and the refusal to support either of the others, but mere personal preference. This is not statesmanship; it is mere caprice, if not something worse, which men can indulge in without the loss of public confidence For my own part, I go for the movement initiated at Cincinnati to arrest the further progress of Radicalism. It is the only practical way of accessing. As for running in a straight Democratic ticket between Greeley and Grant that is a dodge that will not be allowed to succeed. That can be done only in the small field of local politics, where the contest between the real aspirants is personal, and has become embittered. But the contest between the Republican and Democratic parties has always been a sectional contest, one party representing the North and the other the South; and whenever the contest returns to that character, the Republican success is assured by the census It is only by dividing the numerous North and allying itself with the more liberal division, that the Democracy representing the South can hope for the recovery of the right of self-government for its section The moment that the Democracy shall set up for itself, the North will close its ranks again; and the only effect would be to sacrifice the leaders in the Liberal party who have attempted to help us. This would disgrace us, and so help to defeat us, not only now but hereafter.

Of course there will be some honest Democrats who will not regard the subject in this light, and who will prefer to stand by their gun, etc; but the noisest fellows will be those who are in the pay of the Administration. Chandler said recently, I learn on good authority, that there would be a straight Democratic Ticket, and he would give $25,000 to start it himself. There are a good many Democrats of the Tweed order, ready to take his money and help to keep the status quo which is profitable to them, fellows who under tand manipulating claims quietly; and the administration has the public purse at its disposal, and understands them and how to make the most of them. There were over one hundred office holders of them. Grant's emissaries, in the Cincinnati Convention working for Adams; they were nearly all from Washington. I can furnish the names of about fifty of them. The strategy of Grant's friends was to secure for him the Irish vote by putting Adams on us, and so compensate for the loss of the Liberal Republican vote; but he failed, and they are furious. The great majority of Adams' supporters did not understand it; but the public mind is now thoroughly aroused, and when this is the case, the power of purchasable individuals and of the venal press is inconsiderable.

A SUGGESTIVE FEELER.

The Baltimore American, edited by the chairman of the Republican Committee of Maryland, in its issue to-day has a striking editorial, calling upon the Philadelphia Convention to reunite the party, and intimating that the only way in which this can be done is to select another candidate than Grant.

HON. JAS. BROOKS, of New York, openly declared to-day in favor of Greeley and Brown, and predicted that three-fourth of the delegates to the Baltimore Convention would vote to indorse that ticket.

☞ The City of Veiled Women in Siam numbers 9,000 inhabitants, all of whom are of the feminine gender. One thousand of these belong to "first families," and the remaining 8,000 administer to their aristocratic wants. In this feminine municipality, female blacksmiths, jewelers, merchants and manufacturers abound, and the jack-of-all-trades is a woman. The walls are guarded by female sentinels, female policemen patrol the streets, and once a week female military, both horse and foot, perform their evolutions on a large parade ground in the center of the town

☞ John M. Barclay, the journal clerk of the Lower House of Congress, has held the position for over thirty years. He is the author of "Barclay's Digest," which is considered the best parliamentary manual ever published, and has been the prop and main-stay of the Speakers for many years. It is the deliberate opinion of the Speakers and ex-Speakers of the House, that for the past fifteen or twenty years Barclay has not had his equal as a parliamentarian.

☞ Now comes an exchange to tell us that the origin of the word candidate is candidus, white, referring to the color of the toga which the old Romans used to prescribe for aspirants for office. Candidatus is white-coated applicant for popular suffrage.—Dr. Greeley, for instance. Here's to our first genuine classical candidate for the Presidency—the first who did the thing by evident instinct in "the high old Roman way."

"Mr. Speaker," said a member of the Jamaica Legislature, discussing a bill for the regulation of the timber trade, "I know these timber merchants to be most egregious rascals—I was in the timber line myself twelve years."

HOW NOT TO DIE.—Thousands fall a prey to disease not because the maladie that affect them are necessarily fatal, but because they lack the requisite amount of active vitality to make a valiant resistance to the enemy. It is a wise precaution to keep the body always in a state of defense—always prepared to "fend off" the germs of epidemic and other disorders, and to baffle the evil influence of damp miasma and sudden thermometrical changes. There is no difficulty in doing this. It is a fact as well authenticated as that two and two make four, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose, and for the simple reason that its invigorating and regulating properties are superior to those of any other medicine in the world. During the twenty years that it has been in general use, ample opportunities have been afforded to compare its medicinal properties with those of other preparations claiming to be of a similar class, and the result has been its adoption by the American people as the standard tonic of the age, its introduction into every civilized portion of the western hemisphere, and an annual sale which dwarfs into insignificance the demand for all its would-be competitors.

The record upon which its popularity rests is a curiosity in medical literature, for it includes an almost unlimited variety of human ailments and disabilities. In fact, no other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues, and it is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine.

THE cause of Temperance finds some of its most insidious and dangerous foes in the many so-called "tonics" and "appetizers," made of cheap whisky and refuse liquors, dashed up to suit depraved appetites, under the name of medicines. Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are none of these. They are not a beverage, but a genuine medicine, purely vegetable, prepared from California herbs by a regular physician. For all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood, they are an infallible and unrivalled remedy. may14-d1m.

BACHELORS' HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces immediately a splendid black or natural brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, New York.

HUMANS shave with Horses the benefits derivable from the world-renowned Mexican Mustang Liniment. The most irrefragable testimony establishes the fact that this wonderful balm exerts the same soothing and healing influence when applied to the human cuticle, that it does in cases of spavin, founders, ringbone, poll evil, scratches, wind gall and other ailments of the horse which require outward treatment. It is, in fact, the most effectual of all external remedies for rheumatism, gout, stiffness of the neck, neuralgia, sore throat swellings, cuts and bruises of all kinds. may14 deodlw&wlt.

FALSE THEORIES OVERTHROWN.—We live under a new medical dispensation, very different from that under which so many of our forefathers died. The sick are no longer killed till they faint, nor gorged with mercury, nor prostrated with violent cathartics, nor blistered on their shaven heads. Ever since the introduction of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, twenty years ago, renovation and purification, not depletion and prostration, have been the watchwords of the judicious portion of the profession. The remarkable success of this famous vegetable preventive, invigorant and corrective has worked a complete revolution in the general treatment of disease. At first the dogmatic members of the faculty would not believe in it. "What!" they exclaimed, "cure liver complaint without mercury, chronic rheumatism without colchicum, fever and ague without quinine! Impossible!" But the most obstinate incredulity must yield in the end to practical demonstration. From that time to the present dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers, muscular diseases, nervous complaints and constipation have vanished under the operation of the great specific, in at least ninety per cent. of the cases in which it has been used as a remedy for those ailments, while as a preventive of all maladies generated by change of climate, sudden revulsions of temperature, epidemic poison in the atmosphere, and unwholesome water, its beneficial effects have been so obvious uniform as to secure the most perfect confidence in its properties as an antidote, safeguard and cure.

MEAN'S WHAT HE SAYS.—Though "confirmations strong as proofs of Holy Writ," and as numerous as the sands on the sea shore, were produced to prove that Dr. Pierce, the proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, is in earnest and means what he says, when he offers $500 reward for any case of Catarrh which he cannot cure, yet there would be some sceptics and fogies who would continue to shout "Humbug!" "Humbug!!" "It cannot be, because Dr. Homespun says catarrh cannot be cured." Now, this D. Homespun is the identical, good-natured old fellow who honestly believes and persists in declaring that this earth is not round or spherical, but is flat as a "pancake," and does not turn over, otherwise the water would all be spilled out of Deacon Bascom's mill pond. But astronomical science has positively demonstrated and proven that Dr. Hom spun is wrong in supposing this earth to be flat and stationary, and medical science is daily proving the fact that he is no less mistaken and behind the times in regard to the curability of Catarrh In short, it has been positively proven that this world moves, and that medical science is progressive—the opinion of Dr. Homespun to the contrary notwithstanding. That Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure Catarrh, thousands who have used it attest.

"I ben buy it, and use it, in doctor not stand, You will find it in drug stores all over the land.

SPECIAL NOTICE

TO THE

Married, or those about to be Married.

DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, author of "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" (of which over a million copies have been disposed since first published in 1848,) desires to state that he remains at same office as for upwards of twenty years, where his well known and celebrated remedies, having proved so reliable and efficient for all these years, can be obtained.

To the weakly, sickly, debilitated wife or mother, or the husband prostrated in his health, manly vigor, and energies, or those suffering from indiscretions of youth, or premature old age, Dr. Mauriceau especially recommends the use of

as at once reinvigorating the physical functions, giving health and inspiring energy to even the most debilitated and restoring the bloom of health and vigor, anxiety and buoyancy of mind and intellect, and banishing low spirits, dyspepsia, and indigestion.

It has been introduced for upwards of twenty years and thousands are now enjoying the fullest blessings of health in mental and physical strength and personal beauty and given these priceless gifts to their children.

It is not intoxicating, there being no alcoholic spirits in its composition, but exhilarating. It establishes the health upon a permanent basis

It gives bright eyes, clear, brilliant complexion, makes new and pure and rich blood.

It is, besides, most delicious to the palate. Price, $3 a bottle, or $15 a case, containing six bottles.

Dr. Mauriceau does not intend to have "MORAND'S ELIXIR" classed among the countless advertised remedies, as its great intrinsic merit and wonderful reparative powers, as certified to by certificates, are well known. His only object is merely to announce where it can be obtained. TEXAS OFFICE and address 4 for TWENTY YEARS 129 Liberty street, N. Y.
